Introduction

National Offender Management Service

“The National Offender Management Service (NOMS) was created as an executive agency of the Ministry of Justice in April 2008 with the aim of helping prison and probation services work together to manage offenders throughout their sentences”.

NOMS core business

- 2008-09: NOMS manages offenders throughout their custodial and community sentences, working with around 260,000 offenders a year.

- We carry out prison sentences in England and Wales.
- There are 135 prisons (124 run by the public sector, 11 by private contractors).
- The number of re-offences committed fell 11.1% between 2005 and 2007, and the number of re-offences classified as serious fell by 9.8% over the same period.
  - We met our £81million efficiency savings target and developed plans to achieve the savings target of £171million for 2009–10
- There are 35 probation areas - Trusts.
The UK Government believes that more needs to be done to ensure fairness in the justice system. This means introducing more effective sentencing policies, as well as overhauling the system of rehabilitation to reduce reoffending and provide greater support and protection for the victims of crime.

THE NETWORK

- The leaning network aims to include (or re-introduce) people into employment
  - Disaffected Youth
  - Marginalised Communities
  - Troubled families
- The network aims to open opportunities for all
- Develop strategies to assist the ‘community’ to overcome the difficulties within the labour market
  - Skills to find a job, win it, keep it and develop it
- Challenge stereotypical views
- Change the stigmatization that these groups face
- Provide opportunities for all to live dignified and fruitful lives.
How

- Develop a framework structure for the meeting process
  - Enable the themes to be measured vertically and horizontally

- Develop a platform for experts (policy), practitioners (NGO’s) to meet, to discuss and develop strategies to tackle unemployment
  - By examining current and new initiatives in inclusion
  - Comparing results between themes

- Conduct a systematic review on recent high quality research about inclusion into employment
